Melanie Covington

PROFESSIONAL VOCALIST

Melanie Covington was born in Saint Louis, MO in the 70's. She was plucked out of the audience at the tender age of four to sit in with the original "Temptations". Her petite frame, quick-study dance steps, facial gestures and strong vocals were felt and heard throughout a charity performance at the Annie Malone's Children's Home.

Melanie was active in church, musical functions and became the drum section leader in high school. Ms. Covington initially left Saint Louis to perform on tour for four weeks. The performance contract was actually extended to seven months and was managed by ECI of New York (Kool & the gang).

She later formed an all female band "Kymistry." Kymistry was selected to tour with 70's artist, "Roy Ayers" and opened for recognized artists such as The Braxtons, Back Street Boys, Glenn Jones, and Johnnie Taylor. A dynamic group, Kymistry, maintained a three city performance schedule of six shows every week.

Ms. Covington is an exhibit consultant for a leading tradeshow marketing firm, yet performed three nights a week @ Houston's Jazz venue, "The Skybar." She is currently featured on air, via jingle commercials and is a session vocalist.
